RUSSIA UNCEASINGLY PRESSING DRIVE FOR BALTIC DOMINATION

Troops Massing Along the Frontiers—Armada of Battleships Concentrated at Kronstadt—Thousands of Finnish Women and Children Leaving the Capital for Northern Lands

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (P).—Soviet Russia backed her intensive drive for domination in the Baltic tonight with an unceasing military and naval activity. Hundreds of thousands of Soviet troops massed along the frontiers facing the Baltic states. Dispatches from Kronstadt, the big naval base near Leningrad, on the Gulf of Finland, said "a whole armada of battleships" was concentrated there. Reports from the frontier said "military trains go daily to the Baltic Sea." Leningrad is about twenty-five miles from the Finnish border.

The concentration of naval strength at Kronstadt, only a few miles from Finnish territorial waters, coincided with the impending arrival here tomorrow of a Finnish delegation to discuss unspecified economic and political problems.

MAY SEEK SHARE
(Havas News Agency reported from Moscow that competent observers in the Russian capital believe Germany may seek to share control with Russia in possible Finnish strategic concessions to the Soviet Union.)

(Such German participation, Havas said, may be demanded should Finland agree to Soviet control over the strategic Åland Islands, the small Lavasaari Islands in the Gulf of Finland and possibly the Island of Hogland. Some sources believed the Russians would even demand rights in the Port of Hanko, in extreme Southern Finland, Havas said.)

(Asked by foreign correspondents at Berlin today what Germany's attitude is toward the Russian drive in the Baltic countries and Finland, a Nazi spokesman abruptly replied: "Those are questions with which Germany does not desire to be concerned.")

SWEEPING CONCESSIONS
Previous conferences have resulted in sweeping naval and air base concessions by Estonia and Latvia as Russia vigorously pressed her campaign to regain the dominant position in the Baltic Sea she held before the first Great War. Soviet leaders have been in conference with representatives of Lithuania and Turkey.

The Russian press reported today Sweden had purchased 102 warplanes and 10 torpedo boats from Germany under an agreement made prior to the outbreak of war.

Moscow papers continued to attack Great Britain and France, asserting they were responsible for continuation of hostilities.

LEAVING CAPITAL
HELSINKI, Oct. 10 (P).—Thousands of women and children began leaving this capital of Finland for the less populous northland country today as Soviet Russia massed troops and heavy naval forces on the frontiers of neighboring Baltic states.

NAZI ADMIRAL TRIES TO QUIT

Von Ribbentrop Reported to Have Army and Navy Chiefs Against Him

LONDON, Oct. 10 (P).—The Daily Sketch today reported that Admiral Erich Raeder, commander-in-chief of the German Navy, tried unsuccessfully to resign his post as a result of Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's "Baltic blunder."

The newspaper said that Raeder protested that Von Ribbentrop's action, enabling Russia to grasp all strategic points and islands in the Eastern Baltic, hemmed in the German Navy in the East while the British fleet bottled it up in the West.

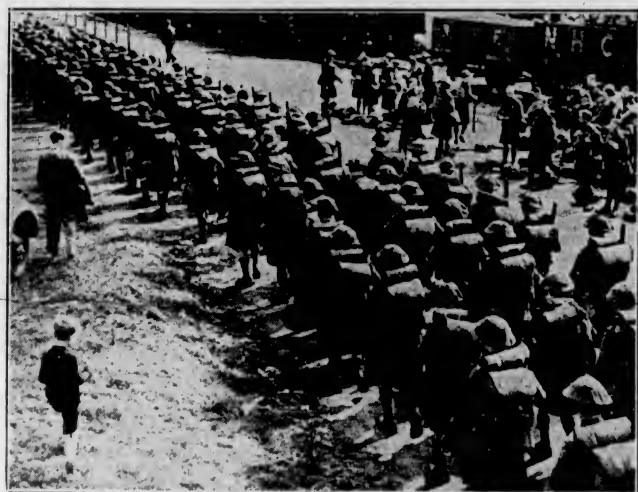

"We understand that Raeder warned the Foreign Office before Von Ribbentrop's last visit to Moscow against conceding anything that would jeopardize naval action in the Baltic in case of a dispute with the Soviets."

"Von Ribbentrop has now both army and navy chiefs against him. As a result of Raeder's unaccepted resignation and the antagonism of the navy to further Soviet encroachments, the Nazis are to do all in their power to prevent Stalin from getting important naval points from Finland."

NINE KILLED AT CROSSING

Seven School Children and Two Women Perish When Train Hits Car

TORONTO, Oct. 10 (P).—Ontario's worst level-crossing calamity, which today inflicted sudden death upon seven school children and two women, appeared tonight to have shocked authorities into moving toward new preventive measures.

The locomotive of a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train, sweeping over the crossing at Brown's Line, near Islington, western suburb of Toronto, struck a light sedan and continued traveling a quarter of a mile, scattering parts of the automobile, school books and bodies along the way.

It was understood, although officials declined to be quoted, that the question of safety measures would be emphasized at the inquest to be held Monday night at Islington Town Hall.

TWO ADULTS IN CAR
Mrs. Gordon Brown, thirty-six, Brown's Line, wife of a market gardener, and her sister, Miss Mildred Taylor, thirty-nine, Toronto, were the two adults in the car.

Mrs. Brown was driving her eight-year-old daughter, Marion, and six other children of the neighborhood to Eatonville School.

SEARCH FOR LOST PLANE FRUITLESS

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 10 (P).—A telegram signed "Saxton" from Keefe, B.C., to the headquarters of the 41st Aviation division here tonight announced without detail that the missing twenty-two-year-old pilot, Lieut. Edward B. Saxton, had reached safety.

PORT LEWIS, Wash., Oct. 10 (P).—Search by land and air for a missing Washington State National Guard plane narrowed tonight to a rugged, heavily timbered area north of Mount Rainier as eight United States army airplanes returned here at dusk after a day of fruitless search.

Major G. H. Gale, of Gray Field, said searchers were heartened by an increasing number of reports indicating the biplane, carrying Second Lieutenant Edward B. Saxton, twenty-three, of Spokane, National Guard pilot, and Private W. Shane, of Hamilton Field, Calif., was down in the Lester district.

Training Centre for Air Forces of Empire to Be Established in Canada

Prime Minister Mackenzie King Announces Scheme for Pilots, Observers and Gunners From Britain, Australia and New Zealand To Come for Advanced Schooling

OTTAWA, Oct. 10 (P).—Canadian air fields will be the training ground for the air forces of the Empire under a co-operative air training plan agreed upon by the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

While no estimate can yet be given of the number of airmen likely to be trained in Canada, it is believed the number will increase as rapidly as volunteers come forward and facilities for training, including flying fields, aircraft, instructors and advanced training will not be affected.

FOR ADVANCED TRAINING
The plan announced today by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, simultaneously with a similar announcement in London, calls for pilots, observers and gunners from the four Empire countries to come to Canada for intermediate and advanced training.

Each country will conduct its own schools for preliminary training and the present establishments in the United Kingdom for intermediate and advanced training will not be affected.

VAST AIR DEVELOPMENT PLAN OUTLINED TO BRITISH HOUSE

Britain to Double Aircraft Production at Home While Training Thousands of Pilots in Canada—Prime Minister to Give Detailed Reply to Hitler's Proposals on Thursday

Admiralty and Air Ministry Report on Successful Actions

LONDON, Oct. 10 (CP).—Canada will become the air centre of the British Empire where thousands of Canadians, Britons, Australians and New Zealanders will receive advanced training before joining the Allied squadrons in France.

Sir Kingsley Wood, Air Secretary, outlined the vast scheme to the House of Commons today while Prime Minister King was announcing it in Ottawa. Sir Kingsley also promised Great Britain would double her own aircraft production.

At the same moment Adolf Hitler was declaring "Nobody can overpower us," the Air Secretary told the House the Empire is marshalling planes and flyers in a mighty plan to "beat the enemy and to insure once and for all that aggression and tyranny are ended."

HOLDS HOUSE SPELLBOUND.

Sir Kingsley has an enviable record as an administrator but is not regarded as much of an orator. Today, however, he held the House almost spellbound as he outlined this broad and imaginative scheme designed to use Canada as the training centre for thousands of men gathered together in the safety of the North American continent.

Behind the scheme is this general idea: No matter what happens to aircraft production, facilities and training schools in Great Britain, the Reich will be faced with a never-ending stream of trained men and new planes from across the Atlantic. Eventually Germany may realize she cannot stop this flow of men and materials, and cannot escape from their cumulative attack, no matter what she does to Britain.

Britain and each Dominion, with the exception of South Africa, which is not joining the scheme, will provide its own primary training facilities, but will use Canada for advanced students. Each Dominion will speed up plane production.

AIR MISSION COMING TO CANADA

To complete the details with the Canadian Government and to interview the Australian and New Zealand missions now on their way to Canada, Britain is sending an air mission to Ottawa. It is headed by Lord Riverdale, the former Sir Arthur Balfour, British steel manufacturer.

Meanwhile, Britain will fight with approval Premier Daladier's declaration the Allies will fight on until a just and sure peace, secure from repeated threats of aggression, is attained.

A direct answer by the British Government to Hitler's "peace proposals" made last Friday was postponed from Wednesday to Thursday to give the Dominions full voice in added consultations. Then Prime Minister Chamberlain will state Britain's position in his weekly war report to Parliament.

Repeated Attacks by 'Suicide Squads' Are Repulsed by French

Germans Striking With Larger Units as Fighting Becomes Intensified Over Thirty-Five-Mile Front Between Moselle and Saar Rivers

PARIS, Oct. 10 (P).—Attacking behind "suicide squads" of hand grenade throwers, German troops were reported tonight striking at French advance lines on the Western Front with larger and larger units. French military headquarters reported all German attacks finally were repulsed.

The German advance guards renewed operations on Sunday with preliminary attacks against various French outposts in restricted sections of German soil. During the last twenty-four hours they have been increasing the range of their operations.

The fact that the French considered the German units big "men" to describe them as composed of "quite important numbers of men," was interpreted by military observers to mean the Germans have put into action units larger than the companies with which they were known to have been operating since Sunday night.

WITH HAND GRENADES
French reports said that the Germans were not thrown back by the first bursts of machine-gun fire as above the old October 18 record established in 1918. The same reading was inscribed on the weather books in Philadelphia.

Germans in Hungary Showing Alarm Over Repatriation Plans

None Too Anxious to Give Up Valuable Holdings To Return to the Fatherland—Hungarians Have Eyes on Farms

BUDAPEST, Oct. 10 (AP).—Large German settlements in Hungary viewed with considerable alarm tonight Adolf Hitler's gigantic repatriation movement, already under way in the Baltic states.

Hungarians, on the other hand, were pleased with the Nazi Fuehrer's plans to bring back home all German nationals, since it would serve to ease one of Hungary's domestic problems.

(Beside resettling Germans from the Baltic States, it was acknowledged in Berlin the Nazi Government was considering applying the plan to Southeastern Europe, where German minorities are widely scattered.)

GREATER DIFFICULTIES

In Hungary and the Balkans, however, the problem appeared to present greater difficulties than in the Baltic States. In Rumania alone there are about 750,000 persons said

Most of Hungary's Germans settled in this country more than 200 years ago, and generally are prosperous farmers, business men and civil servants.

Their farms for the most part are superior to those of their Hungarian neighbors, due to generations of labor and skill. Their present status is better than it would be if they were returned to Germany to begin all over again.

Faced by the possibility of these people's return to Germany, Hungarians said they believed the Germans were less assertive in demanding the right to be regarded as a nation within a nation, and were more inclined to emphasize their Hungarian citizenship.

MAKING NO MOVE

Hungary, it was said, would make no move for their return to Germany unless requested to do so by Berlin.

In such a case, informed quarters here said the Germans probably would be given a chance to choose between going and staying. In these quarters the belief prevailed that no more than one-tenth of them would vote to go.

Hungarian peasants especially look with favor on the exodus of the Germans, because of the hope they would get some of their well-cultivated lands.

In the above picture, Very Rev. Spencer H. WILL ATTEMPT CONCILIATION

Walkout at Pioneer Mine Is Being Studied by Labor Department

The British Columbia Department of Labor will stand behind the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, and will see that its terms are respected, Hon. G. S. Pearson intimated yesterday, in comment on a walkout by some of the 250 miners employed at the Pioneer Mine in the Bridge River district.

Government officials declined comment on the dispute at the mine, though stating efforts at conciliation were being launched. There was some suggestion, they said, that the men had acted hastily, without considering the result of their position under the present statute.

The Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act outlaws strikes, until the machinery of negotiation has been given a reasonable opportunity to act. In this instance, it was said, a walkout on the part of some of the men employed at the mine had occurred, but under conditions not as yet ascertained here.

Representatives of the Department of Labor were reported in touch with what is taking place at the mine, and striving for an amicable conciliation of present differences.

PEACE MOVE IS SPURNED

"We are resolved not to submit to the 'dicta' of violence," he said, adding:

"We have taken up arms against aggression. We will not put them down until we have sure guarantees of security; a security which will not be placed in jeopardy every six months."

Many diplomatic observers believed that Daladier paved the way for a further exposition of the Allies' position by Prime Minister Chamberlain before the House of Commons Thursday.

The Premier also left the impression that any promises written into a future peace treaty would have to be based on physical control of the path of conquest which crossed Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

STRESSES NEED FOR VIGILANCE

J. C. Herberman, Seattle, Addresses Credit Granters And Business Men

"Never in history has there been such a thing as a good war. We must be eternally vigilant to meet the evils that come in the aftermath of every war, and we must watch our credits more than ever before, so as to prevent a crash such as occurred after the last war."

Such was a statement made by J. C. Herberman, industrial agent for the port of Seattle, in the course of an address as guest speaker at the first meeting for the Fall season of the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria, held in Spencer's dining-room yesterday. Members of the Chamber of Commerce, the Real Estate Board, and the Rotary Club also attended the luncheon meeting.

"Business Faces the Test of War" was the title of Mr. Herberman's address. He spoke forcefully of the need for brotherly love to restore and for the betterment of the world, man's welfare and national welfare.

WAR'S ESSENTIAL

"Man's general welfare has broken down in the world," the speaker declared. "I sometimes think that recurring wars are caused by the indifference of men to their own environment. Wars become essential in order to reawaken the people. There are far too many who say 'Let George do it.' Even in Bible days they had the same excuses as we hear today."

"The only cure for all this is work—the only cure for any community or national ailment."

Mr. Herberman emphasized the need on this continent for practical brotherly love in the nature of community service. "If your town isn't a success, your business can't exist very long," he said.

Although seventy-five per cent of the American people voted against war, the people of the United States could not see how their nation could keep out of it, he continued. The United States was preparing as never before. Organization was the basis of success in anything, whether in sport, business, community or national life.

The speaker was introduced by L. W. Cox, president of the Credit Granters' Association, and was thanked by Duncan McBride, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Also welcomed at the meeting was Russell Elsom, Seattle, manager of the Associated Credit Bureaus of the Pacific Northwest.

CALL TENDERS ON FLOWER BASKETS

City Council Seeks Cost of Supplying and Maintaining From 500 To 700 Next Year

Instructions were given the parks committee at a City Council meeting yesterday to call for tenders to supply and maintain 500, 600 or 700 flower baskets next Summer. Mayor Andrew McGavin was of the opinion that an estimate submitted by the committee could be bettered.

A resolution from the City of Brandon, suggesting that the Department of National Defence enlist war veterans to protect waterworks systems and other public utilities was endorsed by the council. Mayor McGavin stated that negotiations were proceeding with the Provincial Government for city watershed guards on the basis that unorganized territory was a Government responsibility.

Mayor McGavin reminded the council that the resolutions committee of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities would meet in a council chamber at 10 o'clock on the morning of October 23, followed by a two-day party on October 24 and 25.

It was decided to pay half the cost of a fireplace in the caretaker's house at Cabin Pond. The caretaker is to pay his share at the rate of $5 per month.

A claim of C. Maclellan for $21.75, occasioned when a wrong diagnosis caused a quarantine to be placed on his home, was left in the hands of the Mayor, city solicitor and medical health officer with power to act.

FRANCE'S ANSWER

"France will go on fighting until the day she feels secure that real and trustworthy guarantees have been given to the world." This was one phrase of M. Daladier's broadcast of yesterday in which he expressed what is the opinion of the French Government, and that opinion is, he says, also that of the soldiers in the field and of the civilian population. He was replying to the peace proposals of Herr Hitler, proposals which he said, if entertained, would be a confirmation and a sanction of force and violence. The security that France is fighting for is not the kind that comes through discussion, twice a year. The French Prime Minister describes it as nonsensical and immoral that nations should have to waste all their energies on rearmament. The guarantees France wants, that the world wants, are of a kind that will preclude any attempt at the future domination of peoples.

The answer to Herr Hitler's peace terms as given by M. Daladier is unequivocal. France will fight until the cause for which she entered the war triumphs, until the final day of victory. She will not be a party to such redrafting of the map of Europe as will allow repression of independent peoples. The peace terms of Hitlerism, if accepted, would amount to condoning what Hitlerism has accomplished. The assumption may well be that M. Daladier has spoken after consultation with the British Government, and that what Mr. Chamberlain says tomorrow in Parliament will be couched in the same vein. That means that the war will go on, that Great Britain and France are determined in their purpose, that Herr Hitler's peace proposals and peace terms fall on barren ground.

GERMANY'S EASTERN PREOCCUPATION

Germany's bid for peace, on her own terms, has in every likelihood been dictated by several motives. One of the most compelling of these is the rapidity of Russian aggression in Poland, coupled with the fact that so large a proportion of the Army of the Reich is held on the Western Front. Russia has moved in a manner and in directions that Berlin could not have anticipated. Whatever prearrangement there may have been between Germany and Russia for the partitioning of Poland, there is unlikely to have been any understanding reached regarding the activities of Moscow in the Baltic Provinces. Those provinces—Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania—are now virtually under Russian military control, or are placed in a state of emergency. The same purpose is in contemplation in the matter of Finland.

Through her Polish invasion, Russia has spread her troops along the Polish-Rumanian frontier, thus shutting out Germany from any designs to extend her aegis to the Black Sea. If Berlin has any plans of bringing pressure to bear on Bucharest to desert the German alliance, she must first get the air alarm while cities crouch in dim twilight. Yet there are brothers flung around the earth. Ready to lift the gauge. At England's call they answer with one voice from sea to sea. Many the distant lands that have them birth. But one the Empire blood that binds them all. To dare as one, that men may yet be free.

will have been engendered, feelings that will make it more difficult than ever to bring about contemplated amendments to the British North America Act.

Mr. Lapointe and his colleagues have gone too far in staking their own immediate political future on the outcome in Quebec. There is no constitutional practice that gives warrant for such a course of action. There is courage in the declaration of the Minister of Justice. It must be remembered, however, that Mr. Lapointe is the chief lieutenant of the Prime Minister. Were he and his colleagues to resign at this early stage of national effort in a time of crisis, the Cabinet would be weakened and war effort would suffer.

EMPIRE WAR CONFERENCE

There is no suggestion that the conference to be held by the British Government with representatives of the Overseas Dominions will develop into an Imperial War Cabinet such as that constituted in 1918. It is simply a gathering to discuss co-ordination of effort throughout the Empire in the conduct of the war. In announcing the conference, Mr. Eden, the Secretary of State for the Dominions, said: "We feel confident that we here shall benefit greatly from the fuller knowledge which we shall thus gain of the problems and plans of the Dominions' Governments, and we hope that the Dominions' Governments will also be helped by the first-hand impressions which the Ministerial representative would form and by the full report which he would take back with him."

Such a conference as is to take place will afford opportunity for closer exchanges of views than is possible by cable and telephone. Mr. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Resources, is representing this country. He has had experience of administration during wartime, having been Minister of Agriculture in 1917-1919, and through long study he is well equipped with knowledge of the resources and productive capacity of the Dominion, and the prospect of expansion in the latter. It is a happy choice. Mr. Crerar has a known ability to grasp essential facts. He should be an able representative of this country at the forthcoming conversations in London.

RECRUITING IN QUEBEC

The recruiting of French-Canadian volunteers for the Militia Force, and for that portion of the force designed for overseas service, has been proving most satisfactory. The sound of the bugle of the Regiment de Maisonneuve has attained its full complement of 639 men, and now it has a waiting list. It is significant that this regiment was among the first in the Dominion to fill its ranks. The same is true of the Fusiliers Mont-Royal, now up to full strength. All other military units in the Montreal District are also mobilized. There is greater keenness being shown in recruiting in Quebec than during the Great War.

The decision of Mr. Norman Rogers, the Minister of National Defence, to abolish patronage in all branches of the armed services is chiefly interesting as an official admission that it prevailed; that there was a preferred list of contractors and others to whom work was to be given. This, of course, was always known. Now that patronage has been abolished in the operations of the Department of National Defence, the politicians will be relieved of some of their worries, but not all, because there is no notification that this practice is to be abandoned in other departments of government.

"BROTHERS IN BLOOD"

Again a world in arms, a war more grim than all before it in the long, dark years of man's slow rise. The sound of clashing gears and roaring engines now its battle hymn. Peril for mother and young son, so slim. As grisly blackout brings its dark new fears. To desert the gas-masked soldier when he hears. The air alarm while cities crouch in dim twilight.

Yet there are brothers flung around the earth. Ready to lift the gauge. At England's call they answer with one voice from sea to sea. Many the distant lands that have them birth. But one the Empire blood that binds them all. To dare as one, that men may yet be free.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Steadily does it. We have progressed from the grand challenge, to the great pause; and now it seems we are on the eve of a great war.

Once again, in association with our ally, France, the British Commonwealth seems to be carrying a torch for the civilized world.

It cannot be said of us this time that we seek empire, or want lands, or wish to interfere with the normal businesses of other countries. Those charges are reversed.

On the contrary, it could be said that non-interference at this moment in history would be an act of cowardice; and that, as a result, Europe should disappear into a devil's broth for 500 years.

No matter what is said, war is something that must be done. Nations that are strong at home, may not be so strong abroad. Paper armies may never develop in fact. Conscience, in our favor, is a mighty weapon.

When it comes to demonstration, we can claim at least a fair start. We seem to have chosen staunch friends; those who will stand by in foul weather, as in fair. For what it is worth, we have also the sympathy and regard of the civilized world.

From a cold start, wherein we suddenly prepared for peace while others prepared for war, we have organized the means, the equipment, the materials and the men from approximately one-third of the world. We are ready, and cannot therefore be taken by surprise.

We have had what one might call a first test. We have swept the seas, transported a large army to France without losing a man or a bullet, and have demonstrated that a fleet may guard its own head from the air.

On sea we are secure. On land we have with us, and not against us, the finest army in the world, the army of France in defence of its own acres.

In the air it remains to be seen if numbers may supply quality. In the air we have quality, and it is unsurpassed. Also, it is probable we can develop the numbers, too.

We have progressed from the grand challenge—it was not our challenge—to the great pause. Presently we shall go on to the great war, or there will have to be a very different deal in Europe.

All the "dynamics" are not on the side of the aggressors, no matter what is said. We hold a few of them; control of the seas, a mighty durable and hard-hitting punch on land, material and actual forces that cannot be overmatched, and a clear conscience—the greatest dynamo of all.

So, steadily does it. The grand challenge found us prepared; the great pause has left us unshaken; and the great war, if it comes, will find the Allies ready and more determined than they were in 1914 that freedom shall prevail.

Centennial United to Celebrate Anniversary

Rev. Thomas G. Griffiths, B.D., and Rev. A. S. Imrie, D.D., will be guest speakers on Sunday in connection with the fifty-third anniversary of Centennial United Church. Dr. Imrie will also lecture on Monday evening at a congregational supper on outstanding statesmen and preachers of the Old Land whom he has heard, to be followed by an opera, given by the Elsiebethan Quartette, and cornet solos by George H. E. Green.

SECRETARY OF FIRE FIGHTERS IS VISITOR

Representing 600 branches throughout Canada and the United States, G. L. Richardson, secretary of the International Association of Fire Fighters, Washington, D.C., was registered at the Empress Hotel yesterday when John Lewis Sankey, secretary of Centennial United Church, Dr. Imrie will also lecture on Monday evening at a congregational supper on outstanding statesmen and preachers of the Old Land whom he has heard, to be followed by an opera, given by the Elsiebethan Quartette, and cornet solos by George H. FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of October 11, 1889.)
More cattle—The cattle are now coming in great numbers, both by boat and rail, from Kamloops, Similkameen and the surrounding districts. Three more carloads, containing about fifty head of cattle, arrived at the Westminster depot yesterday afternoon from up country and were shipped to Victoria yesterday on the steamer Princess Louisa.

Steamer Explorations—The United States coast surveying steamer Carlisle P. Patterson arrived at Port Townsend on Wednesday afternoon on her way to San Francisco from her season's survey of the Southern Alaska coast. The Patterson left Port Townsend on October 15 of last year, and arrived at Cleveland passage, a few miles above Cape Fawcett on April 27. From this point she made surveys of the coast about Admiralty Island, Seymour Canal and Holkham Bay, where the season was terminated. The season was a generally rainy, with but two weeks of fine weather in July, and this was of perfect beauty. The scenery of the unexplored Admiralty Island is spoken of by the officers as most grand and sublime, and the glaciers of Holkham Bay were beautiful and interesting.

Tramcars—The St. Catharines Journal says of the Victoria cars, just shipped from that place for service here: "In elegance of build and magnificence of finish we venture to say that the Victoria street cars, made by Patterson & Corbin, are without superior between here and the Pacific Coast."

The Observation Car

Costly Remedy

A resident of Seaview Avenue is extremely fond of all varieties of cabbage, but indignation usually prevents him from indulging in the vegetable. Last week he attended a demonstration of waterless cooking, and was able to eat three helpings of cabbage without any ill effects. He became so pleased that he signed an order for $50 worth of cooking utensils without a second thought. Now that the family car needs an overhaul he wishes he had back his indignation and the money.

From reports gathered the United States is full of neutral neutrals and belligerent neutrals. There must be a lot in the old saying "If ignorance is bliss, 'twere folly to be wise," because the more knowledge you get, the more things you are not sure about.

It has been said that a pessimist is a man who has to pay up a note he endorsed for an optimist. In dismissing a high-pressure salesman, our tobacco friend was heard to remark: "Samson killed 1,000 men with the jawbone of an ass. Every hour of the day, 1,000 sales are killed with the same weapon." . . . Perhaps we see that the Russian hammer and sickle and the Nazi swastika together make a double cross.—G.B.

There is one soldier in Victoria who knows his K.R. and O's, and is not too shy about observing them. One day last week, as a funeral cortege made its way slowly along Quadra Street, a car could be seen rounding a corner from the opposite direction. Fifty yards before they met, the car stopped, the driver climbed out, and stood, a straight, khaki-clad figure, strictly at attention. As the hearse passed him, a hand went to the salute. It remained there until the cortege had finally passed, and then the driver turned, climbed back into his car and drove off. It was a nice gesture, kindly meant, and it did not go unnoticed nor unappreciated.—T.T.

A Kindly Gesture

On being told his truck was slightly regarding the city's progress, he cheerfully slammed down his knife and fork, ran for his truck, jerked it three cars ahead, and then dashed back to his burrows amongst his onions and dumplings. Which was very gentlemanly of him, no doubt, but hardly a completion of the necessary "cure"—for his truck still occupied more than half the width of Broad Street, and three fresh cars were "interred" until such time as that driver "sleaved" himself the last close of sleep off his whiskered facade.

Although comic, this double parking-phobia is nevertheless quite a menace. It should be stopped. It can't be stopped. But apparently it can't. For what can be said—yes, even thought—when one often observes members of the local gentry actually jamming their broad chests and shoulders against the back of some offending car whose driver is probably nosing out of harbor on the "afternoon star"?

If the police can't flatten out a major traffic tumor such as this—then who can?

I have a strange feeling that the police would like greatly to cure the town of "chronic" double parking—but I have a still stranger feeling that the police are being told to "soft pedal" on such and similar ventures.

Civic elections are not far distant—hence, it is wick to deduce that it may be a case of "votes within wheels"—and if so, are the citizens of Victoria keen to sanction the possibility of their local "gendarmes" being fettered by the chains dangling from the paunches of would-be re-elected civic potentates?

I have good reason to believe that some pettiness is quite the vogue, and if that is the case, some mild investigation would do no harm.

Our local police are a good bunch. I see no reason whatever why their activities and duties should be "pulled" by any powers that be—or even think that they might be.

Such practices are the heritage of petty despots and dictators, and as such are not wanted in any community—least of all in quiet, sunny, little old Victoria, which has been designed for peace and yawning and the spirit of cricket and the "old school tie" until time ceases.

So, if you please—no "gangster" ramifications in this here pleasant village—we don't want 'em.

Idiotic Double Parking

By SPY

Without even a lean two minutes' study of the situation, one can quite fearlessly bray that in the general practices of double parking, jay walking, screw signalling and generally comic vehicular and perambulatory manoeuvres, Victoria cleans up on any city in the world.

I'm willing to bet anyone a coffee and two doughnuts (shiny or fuzzy) to suit taste) that within half an hour's cruising around city centre, at least ten vehicles would be found in mid-street, with motors gently rattling, and their drivers not to be found within fifteen minutes' hard sniffing by ten of the best bloodhounds that ever woofed "H'm! Elementary, my dear Watson."

Some of these drivers would eventually be apprehended actually sauntering back to their machines after making some sort of delivery; others would have to be torn from some stiff political argument in the shade of the nearest barber's pole; one or two would have to be knocked off one of the local "coffee-perches," while several, I fear, would be found trying hard to remember in the middle of just what street or across which particular car line they had lately left their vehicles and for what (if any) reason.

A couple of weeks ago, a large truck was double parked, blocking not only Broad Street but also preventing three cars from any possibility of moving from the curb, and for five minutes' frantic searchings hopelessly failed to unearth the driver. At last somebody smelled Irish stew and coffee through some distant café's portal, and "sho' nuff," in the midst of that nice smell and "in stew" to the ears, that nonchalant truck driver was finally discovered.

On being told his truck was slightly regarding the city's progress, he cheerfully slammed down his knife and fork, ran for his truck, jerked it three cars ahead, and then dashed back to his burrows amongst his onions and dumplings.

Which was very gentlemanly of him, no doubt, but hardly a completion of the necessary "cure"—for his truck still occupied more than half the width of Broad Street, and three fresh cars were "interred" until such time as that driver "sleaved" himself the last close of sleep off his whiskered facade.

For what can be said—yes, even thought—when one often observes members of the local gentry actually jamming their broad chests and shoulders against the back of some offending car whose driver is probably nosing out of harbor on the "afternoon star"?

If the police can't flatten out a major traffic tumor such as this—then who can?

I have a strange feeling that the police would like greatly to cure the town of "chronic" double parking—but I have a still stranger feeling that the police are being told to "soft pedal" on such and similar ventures.

Fair Prices—Honest Weights and DescriptionsYour Health and Your WeightTHE HANDICAPS OF OVERWEIGHT IN CHILDREN
By JAS. W. BARTON, M.D.

When the dangers of overweight are being pointed out, the first one is always diabetes, which so often follows overweight.

The second danger stressed is what may happen if the overweight should have an attack of pneumonia. Certainly the overweight does not usually make as strong a fight against pneumonia as does one of normal weight. In other severe illnesses also, overweight lessens the power of the heart in its fight to save the individual's life. And in all surgical operations, the surgeon and the anesthesiologist proceed with unusual care, as they realize that "shock" is more likely to occur during operation on an overweight patient.

There are, however, some common or everyday ailments caused by overweight that may not be suspected by the overweight or by the physician. Thus flat feet—due to excess weight—can cause not only pain in the feet but pain up the nerves of the legs, including the sciatic nerve—sciatica. An overweight or greatly protruding abdomen can so pull the upper part of the body forward, away from the lower part, that the joints between the back bone and hip bones get "strained" and low backache and sometimes sciatica result. Reducing the weight or wearing an uplifting brace or corset to lift abdomen upward, will usually relieve this pain.

Dr. E. W. Hancock, Lincoln, in the Nebraska State Medical Journal, in speaking of obesity or overweight in children, says:

"Obese children are often objects of ridicule by their playmates. This sets up a reaction which differs according to the mental and physical characteristics of the individual. The fat child who happens to be physically strong in proportion to his weight becomes a bully. The fat child of normal or reduced strength is exactly the opposite from the bully, has feelings of inferiority, and sets 'inferior' in his play or his various contacts with other children." The overweight child is judged according to size, not age; too much is expected of him both physically and mentally, which makes him appear dull, whereas he is as bright for his age as one of normal weight. In many forms of athletics, the groups are arranged according to weight instead of age, which is a fair method in games such as football and boxing, but is not fair to the overweight child in other lines of sport. Despite his size, he has not acquired the speed or skill of those of his weight who are older. This fact should be taken into consideration in trying to make an all-round child of one who is overweight. Otherwise his overweight may affect his social, mental and physical activities.

"Most endocrinologists (gland specialists) maintain that obesity is nearly always of the gland type and must be treated with gland substances, while a majority of children's specialists hold that cutting down on the food intake is the proper treatment."

As a matter of fact the truth is that the gland specialists advise some reduction in food and the children's specialists do not hesitate to use a little gland substance—thyroid and pituitary. For this reason Dr. Hancock proposes a carefully constructed diet, using gland extracts to a small extent. By keeping supervision over the diet and administering gland extracts, the overweight child is kept, in close touch with the physician and that, in itself, is of great help to the child and to the parents.

Exercise or play is not suggested as a part of the treatment, as play increases appetite and appetite, in a child, is a hard thing to deny.

Another forgotten factor in overweight is that of liquids and table salt. Liquids and table salt do not form fat, but as fat tissue holds three and a half times its weight of water and table salt holds seventy times its weight of water in the tissues, thus excess liquid, in addition to adding weight, tends to make the child awkward in his movements, which is a further handicap to him in play or other activities.

TO URGE NEW SWINE POLICY

B.C. Agricultural Production Committee Will Report to Province Today

A strong policy of swine production, coupled with extension of feed growing for livestock generally, will be recommended to the Provincial Government today as a result of a two-hour meeting yesterday of the new swine production committee.

The committee, under J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, will report to Hon. K. C. MacDonald, who will return today from the Okanagan.

While the terms of the report could not be confirmed prior to its presentation to the Government, it is known that swine production and increased feed output for livestock purposes occupied the committee at most of its session yesterday morning, when Dr. W. R. Gunn, livestock commissioner, and Cecil Tice, seed commissioner, were heard.

The membership of the group includes Mr. Munro, chairman; Ernest MacGinnis, assistant market commissioner; J. A. Grant, market commissioner; and T. H. Stewart, statistician of the Department of Agriculture.

Jamaica Aims at Doubling Revenue

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 10 (CP).—Taxation increases designed to yield more than £200,000 (about $2,000,000) in the next year—approximately double Jamaica's annual revenue—were announced in the legislature today by the Government.

The extra revenue will be used to make up a deficit in the current year's estimates and to meet war expenditures. The income tax is levied, along with the impost on beer, cigarettes, tobacco, coconut oil and gasoline. Estate, legacy and stamp duties also are increased.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10 (CP).—British Columbia Telephone Company officials announced today that a limited number of automatic telephone lines will go into operation in the downtown area on December 2, this year.

It was stated that this would be the first step toward installing dial telephones throughout the Greater Vancouver area. How long it will be before the existing system is entirely replaced will depend on conditions, officials said.

MAKES APPEAL TO PRESIDENT

Chamber of Commerce Head Asks for Intervention in Dock Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10 (AP).—Pacific Coast waterfront employers gathered here for an emergency session tomorrow, while charges flared between their association and the powerful Congress for Industrial Organization Longshoremen's Union, after the abrupt resignation yesterday of Dean Wayne L. Morse as Federal Coast Maritime arbitrator.

Marshall Dill, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed President Roosevelt a plea for intervention in the new trouble which threatened to shatter a carefully nurtured maritime peace along the United States West Coast.

Dean Morse resigned because for the first time since he has acted as arbitrator an award he handed down was disregarded. Longshoremen continued to refuse "as individuals" to sign a "ship strike" picket line at the Panama Pacific Pier, though Morse had ruled this was "collusive picketing."

P. P. Folsie, president of the San Francisco Waterfront Employers' Association, charged Harry Bridges, C.I.O. longshore leader and the Union Inner Council, "in fact in their own power, they refuse to accept the principle of arbitration, or heed the public interest."

ALMOST UNANIMOUS
Harry Lundberg, secretary of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, said last night the first returns from Sailors' Union members indicated almost unanimous sentiment for ratification of a tentative new contract between the sailors and ship owners.

The new agreement covers off-shore and Alaska sailings, and increases the Union's earning power by approximately 15 per cent over the agreement which expired September 30.

COUNCIL PASSES $60,000 BY-LAW

Nanaimo Ratepayers to Vote on Loan for Construction of Civic Arena

NANAIMO, Oct. 10.—The city council, which has already applied under the Dominion-Provincial Government Works Scheme to borrow $2,800, Nanaimo's quota, to go toward building a civic arena, voted to sponsor by Nanaimo Gyro Club at an estimated cost of $91,800, passed a by-law last evening to borrow an additional $60,000. The by-law will be placed before the ratepayers for endorsement or rejection. The Gyro Club has agreed to endeavor to obtain subscriptions for the amount of the by-law debentures should the ratepayers endorse the borrowing of the money.

A request from the Nanaimo Retail Workers' Association asking for an increase in wages on the grounds that since declaration of war the cost of living was soaring, was endorsed by the city council. Moving that a raise be given them, Alderman Grieves declared that the men would be in a bad way this winter.

Little Stories for BedtimePeter Is Satisfied at Last
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"Peter Rabbit," said Jimmy Skunk, trying to look very grave, "you deserve to be punished. You have been spying. You have been spying on one of your friends. If you had been spying on one of your enemies, you would have found out something which might be of use to you in the future in keeping out of their way it would be a different matter. But you have been spying on a friend. You have been trying to find out something which didn't concern you in the least. Yes, Peter, you ought to be punished."

"Please don't, Jimmy Skunk! Please don't! I'll never do such a thing again. Truly, I never will. Please don't," begged Peter, hopping up and down nervously. It was very plain that Peter was anxious and growing more anxious every minute. Once again Jimmy turned his head to hide a grin. When he looked back at Peter the latter had backed off several steps.

"Come back here!" said Jimmy sternly.

Peter hesitated, then slowly came forward one step. Jimmy didn't say anything, but he looked at Peter in a way that made Peter most uncomfortable and made him hastily hop two or three steps nearer.

"That's better," said Jimmy. "Now sit down and keep still while I talk to you a little. If you don't I think I will have to try a little of my scent on you."

"I'll sit and listen," declared Peter hastily. He expected to have to listen to a long lecture and, being much like you and I, he didn't like the idea of it. No, sir, he didn't. He knew that he had done a foolish thing, a thing which was not at all nice to do, but he didn't want to be told so again. Still he didn't dare not sit still.

"Peter," began Jimmy just as gravely as before and paused. "Peter prepared for a lecture," said Jimmy again. "You didn't find out a single thing did you?" Jimmy grinned good-naturedly.

"No," confessed Peter, beginning to grow hopeful. "No, I didn't."

"And you are properly ashamed of yourself now, quite as you should be, aren't you?"

"Yes," replied Peter very meekly.

Manslaughter Is Charged at Campbell River

PROVINCIAL Police laid a technical charge of manslaughter yesterday against Christian T. Nelson, following the death at Campbell River, of John A. Murphy, said to have been struck on the head in an altercation following a dance on Saturday evening. Murphy failed to recover, an inquest yesterday reporting his death due to fracture of the brain from unknown cause. Inspector Robert Owens remained at Campbell River in charge of the investigation.

Without it, Alderman Knox, in seconding the motion, added, rider, which carried, that Provincial and Dominion Governments be urged to include Nanaimo in any possible works scheme to enable the men to have more work.

Nanaimo's cost for entertaining in honor of H.M.S. Orion, which visited 1939, was well spent, Alderman Knox declared in moving the adoption of the statement, and especially so, he further commented, since numerous letters had been received from members of the crew pronouncing Nanaimo "top" in British Columbia so far as entertainment was concerned.

BEAUTY SPOT IS DESCRIBED

Dr. W. J. Sipprell Tells Kiwanians of Mountain Lake in Florida

Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell, who was the speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon yesterday in the Empress Hotel, said that he had selected a subject that might draw his listeners away from the sombre things which surrounded them at present with the beautiful spot he visited in the United States. In passing, the speaker said he never missed the opportunity to tell of the beauty of Florida.

This was Mountain Lake sanctuary in Florida, which had been laid out by Edward W. Bok, editor of The Ladies' Home Journal, in memory of the love of the beautiful which his grandparents had evidenced in the transformation of a desert spot into a place of beauty.

Edward Bok followed their teachings to make the place in which one lived more beautiful. The area was open to the public and consisted of fifty-three acres. The spot was largely planted by hand with trees of all kinds. There were one thousand oaks planted and ten thousand azaleas. It was a bird sanctuary with all species making their home there, including egrets and flamingoes.

SINGING TOWER

There was in it the singing tower, 205 feet in height, built largely of Georgia marble. There was a carillon surmounting the tower containing seventy-five bells, with a total weight of sixty-two tons. The speaker told of his own impressions created by a visit to the place, and had no doubt that similar feelings of thankfulness for the throwing of something elevating and ennobling into their lives would be shown by others.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. H. H. Hare, while G. W. Walton expressed the thanks of the club to him on conclusion of the address. J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, was introduced as a new member.

Island Logger Dead—Provincial Police reported yesterday the death of George Estel Parker, thirty-three, Qualicum Beach, who succumbed in Nanaimo Hospital on Sunday morning, following an accident in the woods at Nanaimo on Friday, when a log rolled off him. He is survived by his widow and two children; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Parker; three brothers and a sister, all residents at Qualicum.

Plan Bonfires—Representatives of every city parent-teacher association have been invited by Alderman S. H. Ockell, chairman of the City Council parks committee, to attend a conference on Halloween bonfires in the City Hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Six bonfires held last year under the direction of Alderman Ockell and W. Herbert Warren, parks superintendent, were enjoyed by hundreds of children.

Pleads Guilty—Daniel Munroe pleaded guilty in the city police court to a charge of begging, and was sentenced by Magistrate Henry C. Hall to serve fifteen days in jail at hard labor. Inspector Walter Caldwell testified that the accused solicited alms from him on Saturday. Munroe claimed to be a citizen of both Canada and the United States, and stated that he came here to try and secure a berth on some ship.

Eggs Down in Price—A drop of one cent on all grades of eggs was reported yesterday by William Hager, Dominion inspector. Effective today, the new prices are as follows: To producer, grade "A" large, 30 cents; grade "A" medium, 28 cents; and grade "A" pullet, 18 cents. Wholesale to city retailer, grade "A" large, 34 cents; grade "A" medium, 32 cents; and grade "A" pullet, 22 cents.

B.C. Congratulated—Writing from Ottawa this week to Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, P. C. Elford, special poultry commissioner for Canada at the World's Poultry Congress, closed recently at Cleveland, congratulated British Columbia exhibitors on the excellent showing made by their birds there.

The British Columbia pens attracted widespread attention, in a display likely to lead to follow-up business, Mr. Elford stated.

Laid Out Table—An offer to install an automatic taker in the municipal hall was laid on the table until Councilor Albert Heald, chairman of the works committee, was able to be present at a meeting of the Equilmul Municipal Council, held last night. So was an invitation from the Public Utilities Commission to send a representative to confer on operation of passenger vehicles, the council desiring to discuss the matter with the three taxi operators in the municipality before making a decision. A petition from a number of ratepayers asking for a sidewalk on Admirals Road was also laid over until it is ascertained how much money is available for expenditure for the balance of the year.

JURY SAYS DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT

Finds George E. Parker, Qualicum, Was Fatally Injured When Log Rolled Onto Him

NANAIMO, Oct. 10.—A coroner's jury, with Coroner H. J. Brien, of Qualicum, presiding, after investigating circumstances surrounding the death of George Estel Parker, of Qualicum, who died in Nanaimo Hospital of injuries sustained in a Nanaimo logging slash fire two days previously, brought in a verdict that death was accidental, without blame to anyone.

Evidence given by J. Rocket, who accompanied Parker on the trip to inspect slash burnings on Parker's logging operations, stated they were running away from a forty-foot fir log on a hill. The log struck Parker's feet and threw him with force to the ground and rolled onto him. Rocket said he freed Parker and dragged him out of the fire area and took him to Nanaimo Hospital.

Would Establish Central Office in United States

EDMONTON, Oct. 10 (CP).—A suggestion that the head office of the Associated Country Women of the World be transferred from London, England, to the United States, received warm approval here today at the eleventh biennial convention of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

Mrs. Alfred Watt, London, president of the A.C.W.W., parent body of the F.W.I.C., told the delegates the head office may have to be closed shortly because the staff has been taken for war service. Her recommendation that it be moved to a neutral country, preferably the United States, was heartily endorsed.

No steps were taken to approach the United States women to learn if they would undertake the financial responsibility for the upkeep of the head office.

ROUND TABLE TALK

During the round table discussion on "peace and international relations," Mrs. Watt, founder of the A.C.W.W., and women's institutes of England and Wales, declared it was the duty of every citizen to carry out peace education.

Shipment of scrap iron from Canada to Japan and reports from Germany, until recently had been possible, she said, because of the country's democratic form of government. To prevent such incidents, public opinion must be solidified.

Mrs. Watt saw no reason why women should not continue efforts to bring peace because present efforts did not appear successful. She suggested inauguration of an international day, to be held annually in November, to promote world peace and friendship.

PEACE EDUCATION

A report on peace education work being carried on in Canada was presented by Miss Mabel Childerhouse, Rosser, Man., to the session presided over by Mrs. H. McGregor, Penticton, B.C., president of the F.W.I.C. Mrs. McGregor gave a report on the A.C.W.W. convention held in London last June, at which she headed the Canadian delegation.

Miss Childerhouse said the programme on peace education included establishment of the international peace garden on the border of Manitoba and North Dakota, "international" teas, study groups, peace plays and international correspondence.

Other reports were presented by Mrs. V. C. MacLachlan, Victoria, superintendent of the women's institutes of British Columbia, on "public health service"; Miss Muriel Cameron, of the Federal Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, on grading of meats, butter and other produce; Miss Esther Thompson, Winnipeg, led a discussion on "home economics."

"Jack, you do not love me any more. This is the third time you have gone home before dad has made you go."

Anniversary Celebrated By Chapter

The monthly meeting of the Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held last Friday afternoon at Harbor House, Ganges. It was the largest meeting to date, being attended by nearly fifty members. Mrs. Desmond Crofton was in the chair. She paid high tribute to the work of Mrs. Frank Crofton, who had recently resigned after fifteen years as treasurer of the chapter. The life membership badge and illuminated address now ready for Mrs. Frank Crofton was shown and the members decided that the regent take the badge and address with her to Victoria and present them to Mrs. Crofton, who is at present a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, rather than await her return to St. James' for the presentation. At the request of the regent and members, Mrs. C. E. Baker, first vice-regent, was promised to carry on as regent until the annual meeting in February. Letters of thanks for sympathy and flowers were read, also one from the Salvation Army acknowledging the clothes sent. A long letter was read from Mrs. Frank Stead, Vancouver, giving an account of the annual meeting of the National chapter held in Ottawa. A subscription to the Gulf Islands Hospital was renewed for a local resident. The sum of $425 was voted in response to a request from J. McLaughlin, principal of the North End School, for assistance in obtaining textbooks, etc., for the school. A large quantity of woolen articles made and supplied by the chapter members was given to the convent for war work. Mrs. A. J. Shipley, who will hold them until the supply is completed, when they will be dispatched to England. A beautiful doll, dressed and donated by Mrs. Littlefair, was sent in to be sold by the chapter for war funds. Two new members, Mrs. G. St. Denis and Mrs. E. T. Gies, read oaths of allegiance and four more names, Mrs. E. Parsons, Mrs. Colin Mout, Misses S. Chantel and Betty Kingsbury, were proposed as members.

Contemporary Poets Give Theme for Able Address

Mrs. Doris Ferne, of Canadian Authors' Association Poetry Group, Addresses Women's Canadian Club at Empress—Says Standards High

A plea for greater recognition of Canadian poets was made by one of them, Mrs. Doris Ferne, in the course of an able review of "Contemporary Canadian Poetry," given to an interested gathering of Women's Canadian Club members at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ferne, who is president of the poetry section of the Victoria and Islands branch of the Canadian Authors' Association, presented her matter, chiefly in the form of readings from some of Canada's best known present-day poets. British Columbia, she stated, was particularly well blessed in having a large number of writers of good verse, and Victoria had a generous share of these, as she subsequently proved, by quoting from some of the poets resident here: Ann Marriott ("The Wind Our Enemy"), Audrey Alexander Brown ("Reverie"), Floris Clark McLaren ("I Shall Remember"), from the "Frozen Fire" collection, M. Eugene Perry ("Chimera"), and the speaker's own "Ebb Tide," which ranked as the prize poem in the last issue of The Canadian Poetry Magazine.

STANDARDS GOOD

Canadian poetry was developing along sane and vigorous lines, Mrs. Ferne stated. The standards were good, and reflected a consciousness of the issues confronting civilization. It was important that Canadian poetry should fix the Canadian scene, but it was even more important that it should express the character and soul of the people. While Canadian poetry of the moment did reflect the spirit of strength and steadfastness of the people, the criticism had been made of it that it was a little lacking in humor. The speaker did not fully agree with William Lyons Phelps, of Yale University, "that the shortest way to oblivion was to be a Canadian poet," but nevertheless there was still a much too indifferent attitude on the part of the public and the critics. If literary criticism in Canada were not so intolerant, there might not be so much silence among the poets. In this connection appreciation was expressed of the sympathetic attitude of Dr. Pelham Edgar, Alan Crawley, Ira Dilworth and other lecturers who showed their interest in Canadian writers.

POEMS SELECTED

Foremost among the contemporary Canadian poets named was Dorothy Livesey, of Vancouver, author of "Day and Night," a poem widely recognized as of first rank. Kenneth Leslie, Nova Scotia-born poet, was represented by "Stubborn Stars," which won the Governor-General's award in 1938. Charles Bruce, also of Nova Scotia, was introduced through "Words Are Not Enough," which won the Toronto Women's Canadian Club $100 prize this year. Mrs. Ferne herself being runner-up in the contest. Leo Kennedy, of Montreal, was represented by "Resurrection."

In her reference to the Victoria poets, who were all represented in the "Anthology of Canadian Poetry, 1918-1938," Mrs. Ferne reminded the audience that Anne Marriott, author of "The Wind Our Enemy," was one of the most talented of the younger Canadian writers.

French-Canadian poetry was also briefly scanned, and mention was made of the field of "New-Canadian" poets, Icelandic and Ukrainian Canadians. There was even an matriculation marks for Greater Victoria, were introduced. The soloist, Miss Honor Benson, delighted members with two songs, "Still as the Night" and "The Sailor-man," her accompanist being Miss Margaret Pringle.

Dean Elliott Gives Address On "Tragedy"

Very Rev. Spencer Elliott, Dean of Columbia, was the speaker at the supper meeting of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club last evening at the Y.W.C.A., his subject being "Tragedy."

The Dean pointed out that in times of stress much may be learned from the tragedies of other days, and went on to give an interesting outline of the early Greek tragedies, explaining their form and meaning. The purpose of the tragedy was "not to frighten, but to purge the emotions by means of pity and fear," said the Dean. He referred at length to the tragedies of Shakespeare.

The present war was another great tragedy, he continued, and his greatest misery was the suffering of the innocent. He expressed the conviction that good would ultimately triumph, and out of the suffering of this present tragedy nobler lessons might be learned.

PERFECT DRAMATIST

"When the tragedy seems to be over," said the Dean, "the curtain will always rise, the scales will be taken from our eyes and we shall be able to see that God Himself is the perfect dramatist who has seen the end from the beginning and is working out His purpose," the speaker concluded.

Dean Elliott was introduced by the club president, Mrs. Harold Lord, and the vote of thanks was given by Mrs. Farquharson. Mr. Harold Parfitt was the soloist, singing "The Ringers," "Sigh No More" and "You Will Get There." Miss Evans was his accompanist.

Attention of the members was drawn to the voluntary registration scheme. It was announced that on Tuesday, October 17, an "open house" evening will be held in the clubrooms, with Miss Morton as convener.

The next business meeting will be held on Monday, October 23.

Guides Receive Message From Princess Alice

H.R.H. Princess Alice has sent the following message to the Guides of Empire. She is Commissioner for Overseas Guides for Imperial Headquarters in London.

"The chance to help in the fight for freedom and justice has come first to the Guides in Great Britain, because they are nearest to the scene of action, and they have been splendidly helpful and reliable."

"As Commissioner for Overseas, I know all you Guides in whatever part of the great Commonwealth of Nations you may be living, are just as anxious to play your part, and I am certain you find plenty of ways in which you can do so, but don't desert your Guiding for war work unless your help is especially needed. Remember the young will need your care ever so much more now when probably both their parent may be engaged in war work of some sort. It is no use fighting against Hitlerism if we allow the new generation to grow up without religion, good principles or discipline. These ideals are the very foundation of our Guide movement and it is on such a foundation alone that we can hope to build a new and happier world—a world in which peace and good will shall prevail against the forces of cruelty and injustice."

"Exactly what you do in the way of war work will, of course, depend on the special needs of your community, and if we find there is any particular way in which Overseas Guides can make a more direct contribution towards the National effort, we will call upon your help, knowing that we can be sure of the response."

"With Guide greetings and all kind thoughts,

Yours sincerely,

ALICE MARY,

Commissioner for Overseas."

WORKING IN ENGLAND

A note was enclosed with the message giving an outline of what Guides are now doing in England. Many Guides have joined the Auxiliary Territorial and Fire Services, and the V.A.D. Sea Rangers are helping with the River Ambulance Service, and Guides act as messengers, fill sandbags, etc. Reports have been received of the quiet efficiency of the Guides and leaders and some services are asking new volunteers whether they have been Guides. During the evacuation, Guide people of all ages helped; they carried the children's luggage, met them and helped to settle them in their new homes, and in some cases took over and equipped empty houses for their reception. All over the country Guides were in great demand and helped all local emergency organizations.

The note from Imperial Headquarters closes with this appeal: "Although these activities will take up much of the Guides' time, we ask them to remember that Guide training for the children is more than ever needed and every effort should be made to keep companies going and train recruits."

CONSTIPATION HOLDS YOU BACK

• You cannot make much of a success in life if you are dragged down by constipation. Your trouble may be due to nothing more than a diet deficiency of bulk... eating foods which do not provide the "bulk" needed by the bowels for regular movement. If you suffer from this common type of constipation, get at the cause of your trouble by eating crisp, crunchy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day for breakfast and drinking plenty of water. ALL-BRAN contributes to the needed "bulk" and is a rich source of nature's intestinal tonic Vitamin B. Try ALL-BRAN and see how differently you feel.

What Today Means

If October 11 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until 12 noon; from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.; and from 8 to 10 p.m. The anger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 6 p.m., and from 10 a.m. until midnight.

The voices of demagogues may be heard this year, but should not, and should not be, as emotionalism may be used to disseminate pernicious and false ideas, no do not be influenced by it. Widespread revisions of ideas are likely to take place. The conservative thinker will be able to view things clearly and grasp their import comprehensively. Be careful that emotionalism does not sweep you off your feet, or a lack of it depress you. This is a good day to concentrate your energies on your own life and affairs. Avoid overexertion, hurrying.

ACT OF GRACE REMOVES FEAR

Dr. D. P. Pandia is Pleased With Ottawa Decision Regarding Hindus

Pleased with the result of his mission to Ottawa, where three months' negotiation and consultation with members of the Federal Cabinet resulted in an indefinite stay of proceedings against a number of Hindus in Canada threatened with deportation proceedings, Dr. D. P. Pandia, member of the National Congress of India, paid a brief visit here yesterday to confer with the Hindu community.

Interviewed in the Campus Hotel, Dr. Pandia said that he was "extremely pleased with the decision of the Government to allow, as an act of grace, those Hindus who entered Canada illegally a number of years ago to remain."

"It removed the fear under which they were living and will give them a sense of security now," he declared.

On GOD WILL TOUR

Dr. Pandia, who came to Canada some months ago on a good will tour, and has since been busy with the time negotiating on behalf of his fellow countrymen, flew here from Vancouver in order to arrange for local Hindus to conform to certain requirements of the Department of Immigration, as a result of the recent visit by newa authorities. This is his third visit to Victoria this Summer.

The distinguished Indian scholar and statesman said that the Ottawa decision would "cement good relations between Canada and India on a great deal. Especially," he added, "that the Empire is the way when all have to stand shoulder to shoulder."

Dr. Pandia flew back to the Mainland yesterday afternoon to address a meeting of British Columbia Hindus in Vancouver last night, and to discuss with them the requirements necessary to their continued peaceful stay in the province.

RETURNS TO INDIA SHORTLY

He said that his original intention of proceeding to London to consult with members of the British Government on matters connected with Indian federation had been altered, owing to the outbreak of war. He now intends to return to India shortly, and will be the result of his representations to Ottawa.

"The people in India will be gratified and pleased, and it will have a great moral effect in the relations between the two countries," he stated.

Dr. Pandia expects to return here within a few days, before starting on his long journey back to India.

EDMONTON, Oct. 10 (CP)—Health education should be taught to adults through their children going to school, Mrs. V. C. MacLachlan of Victoria, superintendent of Women's Institutes of British Columbia, declared in an address before the annual convention of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada here today.

Mrs. MacLachlan also declared lack of sea food was one of the principal causes of tooth decay. "Skimlins, she said, had the finest teeth of any race because their diet consists almost exclusively of sea food."

ST. CATHARINES PROTEST SECOND ADANAC VICTORY

EASTERNERS STATE REFEREEING POOR; NEW MEN SELECTED

Canadian Lacrosse Association Will Deal With Protest at Meeting Today—Hughie Gifford and Max Peart to Handle Game Tonight—Goal Is Also Disputed

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 10 (CP)—Russell T. Kelley, president of the Ontario Lacrosse Association, announced today St. Catharines Athletics would formally protest a New Westminster Adanacs' second victory in the Dominion lacrosse championship play-offs.

Kelley, who already has obtained a change in referees for the third game of the series here tomorrow night, said he would place the protest before the annual meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association when it reconvenes tomorrow.

Adanacs won the closely-fought game last night, 9-8, and took over a two-game lead in the best-of-five series. After the game, members of the St. Catharines team claimed several disputed decisions had "robbed" them of a victory.

Kelley said today the refereeing last night was "not only poor, but inefficient," and disclosed that the Athletics were basing their protest on a claim that a second-period goal by George Coles was disallowed when it should have been counted.

DISPUTED GOAL

When Coles made his disputed shot, Ed Johnson, Adanacs' goalie, dropped to save and the ball lodged between his legs. The goal judge ruled the ball had not crossed the goal line and he was upheld by Referee Jerry Kendall, of Brampton, Ont., and Harry Gilmore, of Vancouver. Athletics maintained the ball had crossed the line and that Johnson had pushed it back outside with his hand.

After the game, Kelley protested against the refereeing of J. A. McConaghy, of Vancouver, C.L.A. president, and Max Peart, of Toronto, and Hughie Gifford, of New Westminster. Were named to handle the remaining games in the series. Peart is flying to the Coast to be on hand tomorrow night.

A similar incident occurred in the 1938 series at Orillia when the North Shore Indians of British Columbia protested the refereeing in their series with the Orillia Terriers. Gifford flew East at that time to handle the remainder of the series, which was won by the Ontario squad.

When the Athletics asked for a new referee, they asked only that Kendall be replaced. McConaghy allowed their appeal, but decided to appoint a new Western referee at the same time. In commenting on the change of referees, McConaghy said: "Personally I think the refereeing was just as good as the game. But I want the East to be perfectly satisfied, so Max Peart and Hugh Gifford will command the remainder of the series."

EIGHTY-ONE IN CAMBRIDGESHIRE

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 10 (CP)—The revised Cambridgeshire, to be run October 18, under Britain's curtailed programme of racing, will be divided into two parts because of the large entry list of eighty-one horses.

Owing to lack of time between reinstatement of the race in the turf calendar and the date of running, there will be none of the usual acceptance dates, at which the field usually is whittled down to reasonable proportions.

DiBenedetto New Head of A.A.U. in The United States

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 10 (AP)—L. diBenedetto, of New Orleans, today became president of the United States Amateur Athletic Union, the first Southerner to hold the position in the organization's fifty-two-year history.

The death of Samuel E. Hoyt, Sr., of New Haven, Conn., A.A.U. president, elevated diBenedetto from the first vice-presidency to acting head of the union. The next election will be at Miami, Fla., in December.

St. Catharines to Play Boxla Match Before Local Fans

Eastern Lacrosse Champions Booked for Exhibition Game Against Victorians at the Willows As Soon as the Dominion Series Are Completed—Benefit Game Set for Tonight

Victorian lacrosse fans will get a glimpse at one of the finest teams in action here at the Willows in the near future, Everett Taylor, a member of the local commission announced yesterday, following a telegram from W. C. Morehead, chairman, who is in Vancouver at the present.

The local spectators will see St. Catharines, present Dominion titleholders, playing at the Victoria Sports Centre at the Willows against an all-star line-up from the city senior league.

If the Canadian final ends on the Mainland this evening, the Saints will be here tomorrow, but the fact remains that the Eastern stick-handlers will be in the city as soon as the series ends with the New Westminster Adanacs. At present the Royal City boxla boys are leading the defending champions two straight games and are favored to end the argument sometime this week.

Tonight at the Sports Centre a benefit game will be held by the Victoria commission to help defray expenses incurred by players being injured during the season. Two strong teams, one managed by Everett Taylor, and the other by Johnny Johnson, both stars of years gone by, will take the floor, and a large crowd is expected on hand to see the boys in action.

The preliminary game will bring together McLean's Bakery, who will clash with Saanich Young Liberals junior winners this season, at 7:30. The main attraction will get under way at 9 o'clock.

Ed "Cotton" Brynjolsson and Ed Popham will referee both games and the line-ups follow:

Taylor's team: A. McKim, goal; McDonald, Fridham, McSheen and Doherty, defence players; Carney and Entwistle, rovers; N. Coates, J. Sargent, Pickford, Mason, McCork all, Clarke and Coleman, forwards.

Johnson's team: Gawley, goal; A. Chapman, Langdon, Coates and Sargent, defence players; Brown and Wallace, rovers; Lawrence, Ocharick, Baker, Plater, E. McKim, Bray and Ludbrook, forwards.

Dugal Appointed Boss of Montreal Club for Season

Veteran Member of Executive Will Put in First Full Year as Boss of Canadiens—"Pit" Lepine Is Chosen as Assistant Coach, Succeeding the Late "Babe" Siebert, Who Was Drowned

MONTREAL, Oct. 10 (CP)—Montreal Canadiens dug into their executive and player ranks today for a board of strategy to handle the colorful National Hockey League

President Ernie Savard announced that Jules Dugal, a behind-the-scenes man with the club since 1921, had been appointed manager and coach and that Albert (Pit) Lepine, for twelve years Canadiens' first-string centre, would be assistant coach.

The task of manager is not new to Dugal, but the coming season will be his first full year at the helm. His appointment leaves Canadiens in the hands of the man who took over in January, last winter, and brought them out of the cellar into the Stanley Cup play-offs.

In his position as coach, a vacancy caused by the drowning of Albert (Babe) Siebert, veteran defence man, Dugal will share his duties with Lepine, who handled Canadiens' 1938-39 national American League team at New Haven last year.

Savard said that Lepine, one of the great members of the flying Frenchmen of old, would be used only as a coach and not as a player. Until Cecil Hart was granted "leave of absence" as manager last January, Dugal was strictly a club executive, although he had handled the team once or twice on road trips. When he went in as a pinch-hitter, Canadiens were deep in the cellar, but his canny, quiet handling brought them out of the slump and gained them a play-off position.

His manager, Eddie Marano, said today, "I want two fights, possibly three, for Hosten before he pitches into opposition like Walter Woods or Ceterino Garcia." Marano said.

MEADE TOPS RACE RIDERS

Veteran Jockey Leads With 214 Winners So Far This Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (CP)—Basil James is riding hard for the United States jockey championship he won in 1936.

Seven of the nine meetings, or 151 of the 173 days constituting New York's 1939 season, were written into the records with the Belmont Park wind-up last week-end. Going into the final four weeks, James tops all rivals for the New York season, with 124 winners.

Two Canadian boys, Johnny Longden, of Taber, Alta., and Ronnie Nash, of Toronto, are riding close to the new star, but they're not likely to catch him. Behind Don Meade, who is second with 113 winners, comes Longden with eighty-one and Nash with seventy-nine.

James' brilliant work at Belmont, where he picked up twenty-three winners to six each for Meade and Longden, boosted him into third place in the national standing. After last Saturday's racing, Meade, who got a first start in Florida, was in front with 214 winners. Longden second with 188, while James had 174.
